The Transcendental Sublime in Contemporary Art Nandita Mukand, 2015-04-21 Essay from the year 2013 in the subject Art - Miscellaneous, grade: A, , course: BA (Hons) Fine Arts, language: English, abstract: In Robert Rosenblum's book Modern Painting and the Northern Romantic Tradition: Friedrich to Rothko, Rosenblum traces a continuing tradition in art from the 18th century to the 1960s, which centres upon the term 'sublime'. In the past many artists (amongst them Caspar David Friedrich, Turner, Wassily Kandinsky, Mark Rothko, Barnett Newman) and theorists (amongst them Edmund Burke, Immanuel Kant, Jean-Francois Lyotard) have explored the transcendental nature of the sublime in art. Today we live in an age that prides itself on the loss of illusion. Ideas of transcendence in art are often seen as sentimental and viewed with skepticism. The word sublime seems to be stripped down to "the shock of the new" (often centered on horror). This essay explores how the transcendental sublime is situated in contemporary art. The 'transcendental sublime' will here refer to how looking at a work of art can enable one to be transported, going beyond the given limits to a place of accessing one's spiritual side. Art that has used shock and terror to achieve a sense of the sublime will be excluded from this discussion.

Contemporary Lesley Jackson,2000 This book provides a full definition and examination of the Contemporary style that was to dominate architecture and design throughout the 1950's. It shows the ways in which these new ideas pervaded all aspects of the market, from handcrafted one-offs to the mass-produced industrial item, and all areas of design, from home decoration to public buildings. Far more than a collection of fifties nostalgia, this volume provides an entertaining and revealing survey of trends in taste and interior design at a time of economic regeneration and social renewal. It shows how the positive spirit of the age was reflected in the buoyant and confident creative expression of its buildings and domestic furnishings.
